What is a 4-H project?

A 4-H project is the center of the 4-H experience. Projects are selected by members parents and leaders based on interest, abilities, family situation, facilities and availability of leadership for the project. A member who enrolls for the first time is encouraged to take only one project. As a member gains knowledge and experience, the size of the project may be increased and additional projects selected. At the age of 12 or 13, a member should consider developing a project plan based around a major project. This plan will guide the member throughout the rest of his or her 4-H career. Projects continued year after year should be increased in size and varied in learning experiences when possible. When enrolling for additional projects, try in include projects related to other project work. For example, a foods project might be complemented with gardening and poultry projects, or a livestock project might be complemented with veterinary science, safety or woodworking projects.

Who can have a 4-H project?

Any boy or girl, ages 9 to 19, who is enrolled as a 4-H member.

How is a project conducted?

A project may be conducted by participating in a project group with instructions from a project leader or by planning and conducting a 4-H project with the help of an adult leader.

How is a project completed?

A project is completed after activities are over and the project record is turned in to a 4-H leader. One 4-H project, including a project record, should be completed each year.

Why are records included as a part of 4-H projects?

Recordkeeping is an important part of the 4-H program. Records: (1) teach the skill of recordkeeping, (2) encourage good work, (3) show progress, growth and accomplishment, (4) help direct future plans and (5) help determine recognition.

Instructions for the Project Record

How do I prepare the record book at the beginning of my project?

PLAN, DESCRIBE AND TAKE INVENTORY OF THE PROJECT. Complete page one and the description and beginning inventory on page three with the help of a parent and/or leader. The 4-H member, parent and leader sign on page one after discussing the plans, the project and record requirements.

How do I prepare the record book during my project?

CONDUCT PROJECT AND PARTICIPATE IN PROJECT ACTIVITIES. As the project is conducted, management and activity records should be kept on a daily, weekly or monthly basis.

How do I prepare the record book at the end of my project?

SUMMARIZE PROJECT AND DETERMINE FINAL RESULTS. 4-H projects end when animals or poultry are sold, at the end of the 4-H year in August or at the time records are turned in to the County Extension Office. Total the columns in the Management Record and complete the inventory at the end of the project to determine profit or loss. Complete the optional records if they apply and the project summary. The total project record is reviewed by the 4-H member and leader and then signed.
